DECISION IN THE UNION DEPOT CASE

Sudges Ferguson and Walton Hold That the Vinduct Donation Was Voted Under False Pretenses and Can Not Be Delivered-Opinion in Full.

injunction controversy is settled. The opinion of Judges Ferguson and Walton, who heard the final trial of the case when the question dissolving the injunction or making it permanent was at issue, was handed down yesterday. The injunction was made permanent, and the city was perpetually enjoined from turning over the depot bonds and from executing to the Union Pacific Railroad company a deed to the grounds it now occupies at Tenth and Mason streets. It was held that a change in the plans vitiated the contract entered into between the depot company and the city, as the contract called for a specific per-formance, which must be executed for the terms to remain binding and in force.

The opinion was read by Judge Ferguson.
who stated that Judge Walton fully concurred in all parts of it. Both judges were on the bench, but there were few spectators in the court room at the time. General Cowin was the only one of the interested attorneys who was present, and his presence was due to the fact that he was engaged in the trial of a case before Judge Walton in court room No. 7, and that case had to wait for the rendering of this countries. for the rendering of this opinion. City Attorney Connell was represented by his partner, Mr. Ives, but neither Messrs. Howe, Thurston, Greene nor Woolworth was on

The only expressions anent the opinion heard were of approval and satisfaction. Opinion of the Court, e matter took up but a few min-time. Judge Ferguson said: "In case of Stuht et al. against city of Omaha Judge Waiton and myself have reached a conclusion in regard to the application for an injunction, and I have submitted in writing, briefly, the points upon which we hold in regard to the matter."

The opinion was as follows:

The opinion was as follows:

In the year 1869 the inhabitants of Omaha voted a large sum of money in bonds, a great portion of which was applied toward the purchase of twenty acres of land to be used for depot purposes in aid of the Union Pacific Railroad company. A portion of said tract was acquired by condemnation proceedings, and the title to the whole was taken in the name of Alvin Saunders as trustee.

On January 1, 1872, a written contract was entered into between the city and county and the Union Pacific Railroad company, in which it was agreed upon the part of the company that in consideration of these donations the company should build and maintain a depot for freight and passenger purposes upon these grounds, and should admit all connecting lines to enjoy the benefits of these terminal facilities, exchanging business of all sorts and in every way with the Union Pacific Railroad company, they paying therefor a reasonable compensation. In the same month Alvin Saunders, as trustee, conveyed said lands to the railroad company subject to the conditions of the contract, and as expressed in the conveyance.

The defendant, the Union Depot company.

tions of the contract, and as expressed in the conveyance.

The defendant, the Union Depot company, was incorporated for the purpose of erecting a union depot on said premises with perhaps some additional ground purchased by said company in 1859;$150,000 of bonds were voted by the inhabitants of Omaha, ostensibly to aid in said enterprise.

Petition of Plaintiffs Punctured.

Petition of Plaintiffs Pauctured.

This action was instituted by the plaintiffs to restrain the delivery of said bonds until the people could be assured of the performance of the conditions upon which they were voted, and on the ground of illegality, as well as to restrain the release of the land in question from the conditions and limitations under which said land was held.

The petition in this case in substance alleges that these twenty acres of land are impressed with a trust in favor of the public; that they are dedicated to the purpose of transfer grounds, the benefit of which is secured by the contract to all connecting roads equally, as well as referring to the other limitations and deed.

It is also alleged in the petition that the city.

It is also alleged in the petition that the city authorities are about to release the railroad company's title from the conditions and Hmitations imposed thereon by the original conveyance, and that said bonds are invalid for the various reasons alleged in the record.

It is not necessary in the disposition of the questions before us to go into detail or to cover the entire field that was before us upon the hearing of the case. It is sufficient for us to say that a permanent injunction be granted as to the issue and delivery of the bonds in question. We find as a matter of fact, from a consideration of the evidence, that before said bonds were voted a proposition was submitted question. We find as a matter of fact, from a consideration of the evidence, that before said bonds were voted a proposition was submitted to the people for the erection of a union depot; that said proposition included certain plans for the same; that in voting for said bonds the people considered and acted ppon the proposition then before them; that subsequent to said vote said plans were materially changed and that the depot building which the defendant, the Union Depot company, now proposes to construct is materially different from the ones submitted to the people at the bond election. It is no answer to this to say that the city council consented to and approved this change or substitution. They had no legal authority so to do: the people had acted in the premises and made their selection, and voted bonds for its building. There was no delegated, implied or statutory authority for the city council, who are simply trustees or agents for the inhabitants, to make any other or different contract, or to substitute any other plan than the one selected and approved by them.

City Never Had Title.

City Never Had Title.

by them.

City Never Had Title.

We find further that while said bond proposition was estensibly for depot purposes, etc., its real purpose was to aid in the construction of the Tenth street viaduct. Under the law assistance of this kind could not be given. We are satisfied from the evidence that the proposition upon which the bonds were voted was not the real one. It was simply a cloak or cover to aid or reimburse the railroads for the building of the viaduct. A court of equity cannot sanction such a proceeding. For this reason, if no other existed, the issue and delivery of the bonds must be enjoined.

Another question remains to be considered, namely, the proposed conveyance by quit claim deed from the city to the railroad company of the land in question. We hold that this property is impressed with the trust set forth in the deed of 1872. The mayor and city council have no lawful authority to make such conveyance. If such were made it would not stop the city from any contingent interest in said property or bind it upon a reversion of the property. Such a deed would be a mere nuility. The legal title to this land has never been in the city. The inhabitants thereof bought the land by the bonds voted in 1869, and had it conveyed direct from the grantees to a trustee in trust and by him conveyed to the railroad company. Any reversion would insure to the benefit of the inhabitants generally, and in the matter of the reconveyance as proposed by the city, the mayor and council, could only act by express authority. The city council, as such, is an organization under the law of well defined and limited power. If they seek to go beyond this limit they must first ask and obtain such authority from the people, or the people must grant it upon their own motion. Any power or authority for the council to make this reconveyance must first be granted them by the sovereign power; it cannot be assumed by the delegate.

Requirements of Saunders Conveyance.

Requirements of Saunders Conveyance.

We do not think that the Saunders conveyance to the railway company requires that company aiways to own and possess the land, but simply that said land shall be used for the purposes expressed in the contract and deed of 1872. If the company transfer the same to the defendant, the Union Depot company, under the same conditions and limitations, and the premises are used for these purposes with the admission of all connecting roads to the benefit of terminal facilities and other conditions of said trust be complied with, there would in such case be no violation of the conditions and no reversion.

It is not of nauch moment as to who occupies the ground in question. The sole object of the people in making this grant to the company was to obtain the objects expressed in the contract and deed of 1872, and as long as this is obtained there can be no reversion, no matter who owns or possesses the premises.

1.—The issue and delivery of said bonds are perpetually enjoined.

2.—Any deed from the mayor and city council to the land in question, without an express authority from the people of the city and county by vote under the rules of the law permitting such transfer, is perpetually enjoined. Requirements of Saunders Conveyance.

AFTER THE DIAMOND ROBBER.

Detective Pinkerton Says Omaha May B Startled with a Big Sensation. Detective William A. Pinkerton of Chicago is in Omaha, and seen at the Paxton he said: "I am here on various business matters, among which is the Pollock jewelry robbery, which occurred last November on a Sioux City & Pacific train, you remember.

"We have more than good reason to believe that there are in Omaha several persons who could not only tell us a good deal about the arrangements for the robbery, but could easily find us the principal. On the evidence of several witnesses who identified his picture we arrested in Milwaukee a few weeks ago, after a long search, Prank Bruce, a crook of high degree, well known in Omaha, but when the witnesses saw him they declared he was not the man, so we let him go. Since then, however, we have found evidence implicating in the robbery several persons in Omaha whose arrest, if made, will cause a great sensation, and they are being watched all

"It has been shown that before Pollock left on his unfortunate trip with the $15,000 worth of diamonds in his inside pocket a certain person in the store of a customer of his learned that he was going to Sioux City and gathered other facts concerning the manner in which he carried his diamonds, and so on. This person and several others we have the sleepless eye on.

"We are working on this case backed by the Jewelers Protective union, which never says die, and never compromises a case o this case until the guilty person is punished If these union people can't convict a crook they want on their own account they will dig up some old score and prosecute him on thapuntil they get him behind the bars. They have had over a dozen robberies since their organization, and not in one case has the guilty person escaped conviction. You may depend upon it, this case will end in the same way.

Arrested for Robbing a Fur Store. Joseph Novak and two women giving their names as Edie Mitchell and Jennie Howard were arrested yesterday for burglarizing the hide store at 1410 Leavenworth street and stealing some mink skins therefrom. at John Urbanszyk's fur store, 320 South Fifteenth street. Novak was employed at the hide store, and was be-lieved to have done the work, as at the hide lieved to have it is stated it is stated that no person net connected with the establishment could have gone through it at night on account of the vicious bulldog which is left in there after closing hour. His intimacy with the Mitchell and Howard women and the identification of the former with the statement of the stat fication of the former as the person who sold the skins at the fur store, completed the chain of evidence in his case, and he was taken in accordingly, a couple of hours after his accomplices were arrested.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSION. Dog Catcher Wants Police Protection from

Angry Citizens. The fire and police commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon and granted the following leaves of absence: R. P. Oury, hose company No. 7. fifteen days; L. H. Winslow, ten days; W. H. Earnest, No. 6 company, thirty days.

In a communication Chief Galligan stated that the annex to engine company No. 3 would be completed in about thirty days, and suggested the immediate purchase of hose for the new wagon and six horses for the department. Action on the chief's suggestion was deferred for one week. The resignation of Fireman Thomas Con nelly was accepted.

Police Captain Thomas Cormack was allowed $32 sick benefit from the relief fund. Dog Catcher John Spoerl requested the board to furnish him a regular policeman in order to protect himself and his men from the assaults of angry citizens and he kindly offered to pay one half of the officer's salary. In regard to this application Chief Seavey said that it was something new for the police fund to pay for the protection of dog on the request would never be granted if his vote could prevent it.

Commissioner Hartman thought that if a cool-headed officer accompanied the wagon he could prevent a lot of trouble and would see that justice was done both to the owner of the animal and to the poundmaster and his men.

After some little talk the matter was referred to a committee. A druggist's license was granted C.O. Mackelstrom & Co., 306 North Sixteenth The next meeting of the board will be held at 4:30 p. m. Monday.

THE NUTRITIVE ELEMENT ALE AND BEER.

There is a nutritive element in ale and beer, but it is small-there is the intoxicating effect, too. That is a strong objection. Yet ale and beer are used, and benefit health at times. There is another liquid, the active principle of malt, JOHANN HOFF's MALT EXTRACT. One dozen bottles of it has the same nutritive effect as a large cask of ale or beer. That's an advantage. Another-it has not the intoxicating effect of either. It helps digest and assimilate food, creates appetite, makes the weak strong and healthy. Be sure to obtain the genuine. # Cucumber Under Underwear

MILLIAN STATES AND THE STATES AND TH

Would be a queer name to give to summer shirts and drawers, we know, but it is suggested to us at this moment by the recollection of the old saying about being "as cool as a cucumber." And isn't that just the way that you want to feel during the approaching hot weather, of which the increasing temperature of the past week has been a "gentle reminder?" Of course it is. And here we remind you of what a large portion of the most thoughtfu people are carrying off from our counters every day in the shape of Balbriggan undershirts and drawers at the following prices:

"Spring Moss" (fine, soft and cool), at 20c.

"Crotto Shade" (an elegant combed yarn), at 25c. "Old Cold" (smooth and refreshing), at 40c.

"Heather Mixture" (silken finish and fancyribbed cuff), at 45c.

Besides the underwear, and equally desirable both for quality and price, are some kindred lines of goods which will be appreciated by persons who are looking for hot-weather comfort, which we quote briefly as follows:

NECLICEE SHIRTS, cool and serviceable, a full line in all styles, and at our usually low prices.

SUMMER NECKWEAR in Four-in-Hands, Tecks-Bows and Puffs, fit for Ward McAllister and his set, at 5c, 10c, 15c and 20c FAST BLACK HALF HOSE, very nice, 10c.
